

Jennifer L. Berglund

Tybee Island, GA
423.838.2422

jennifer@ohsisterproductions.com

SUMMARY

Professional writer/producer for 10+ years, with extensive experience writing for national and international popular science publications, producing nature and science films for a variety of local, national and international clients. Exhibit developer for the Harvard Museums of Science and Culture, a consortium of museums spanning the disciplines of natural history, archaeology, anthropology, and the history of science.

EDUCATION

- 2010 M.S. in Science and Medical Journalism, Boston University, Boston, MA
- 2007 B.A. in Biology, Boston University, Boston, MA

RELEVANT PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

- 2013 - Pres. Exhibit Developer/Writer/Media Producer, Harvard Museums of Science & Culture, Harvard University, Cambridge, MA
- 2008 - Pres. Writer/Documentary Film Producer, Oh Sister Productions, Somerville, MA
- 2014 - 2018 BURECS Program Coordinator/Science Communication Instructor, College of Arts and Sciences, Boston University, Boston, MA

HONORS & AWARDS

- 2019 - Pres. National Geographic Explorer, the National Geographic Society
- 2017 - 2018 STEM Media Fellowship, Jackson Wild Film Festival and Conservation Summit
- 2010 Associated Press Documentary Award for Made in Massachusetts, aired May, 2009 on NPR/WBUR

PROFESSIONAL AFFILIATIONS & ACTIVITIES

- 2019 Jackson Wild Film Festival and Conservation Summit, Steering Committee
- 2013 - Pres. Society of Environmental Journalists
- 2013 - Pres. National Association for Museum Exhibition (NAME), New England Regional Representative 2013-2019
- 2008 - Pres. National Association of Science Writers